

WATERBURY AT CHAPEL MAKES POPULAR HIT

Widely Traveled—Tells Students of Great Industry

"The greatest fault which industry finds with college men is their inability to start at the bottom of a thing and learn the essentials of the business in which they are to engage," declared E. S. Waterbury, general manager of Armour and Co., in a talk at chapel Tuesday.

Mr. Waterbury then explained in some detail the workings of the packing house industry and above all revealed the importance of the work.

"Omaha owes its present wealth and prosperity to this industry," he stated.

Mr. Waterbury is a college graduate and was formerly a star gridiron performer. He has traveled all over the world, having visited packing houses in practically every country on earth.

Toward the end of his talk, Mr. Waterbury diverged slightly in telling of his respect and admiration for the Russian people. "I know of no other people," he said, "who are more lovable and intelligent than the average Russian. As soon as it begins to make use of the valuable resources at his command, Russia will begin to become the power that she was intended to be. Contrary to popular opinion all Russians are not bolshevists."

Mr. Waterbury was secured as speaker by the Y-Boosters who met in conjunction with the Y. W. C. A., instead of holding the customary separate chapels on Tuesday.

FRESH ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARTY POSTPONED

Faculty Committee Rejects Request On Two Counts—Indefinite Post—Ponement.

The Freshman party has been postponed indefinitely, due to the fact that it was not approved of by the social committee of the faculty, the objections being that it was on a Monday night and that the card was not in on time. The committee says that cards should be in at least two weeks in advance.

JUNIORS STAGE HOT MID-YEAR ELECTIONS

Florence Jensen and Helen Riekes New Council Members—Ben Meade for Gala Day.

Florence Jensen, was elected representative of the Junior class to the Student council at the last meeting of the Junior class. She fills the vacancy made when Ruth Edwards left school at the beginning of the new semester. Helen Riekes was the faculty appointee to take Gladys Kemp's place, who also left school at the beginning of the last semester.

The Junior class elected Benjamin Meade as representative to the Central Committee.

The Junior Prom will be held some time in April. The committee in charge is headed by Robert Rasgorschek.

GATEWAY ANNUAL HAS PEPPY CHAPEL PROGRAM

Boosts Sale of Annuals by Unique Program—Big Success.

The sale of Gateway Annuals was again boosted at the pep meeting held Wednesday for that purpose. Ann McConnell conducted the meeting. Jerry Kutak emphasized the necessity of promptness in regard to handing in write-ups for the 1924 year book, while Herbert Fischer gave directions as to how and when pictures must be turned in.

Following the talks and a couple of orchestra numbers, a playlet was presented under the direction of Joe Houston. The first act depicted Irving Changstrom and Herbert Fischer in friendly conversation over the probable merits of this year's annual. The second and last scene represented five of our students as they will be in 1900 or thereabouts. The scene was the interior of the Old Peoples' Home, and the actors were Russell Mattson, John Kuhn, Ben Mead, and Homer Schleh.

MALE GLEE CLUB MAKES FIRST ENGAGEMENT DATE

Hanscom Park E. L. Succeeds in Getting Popular Organization for First Concert Date.

The male Glee Club of the University of Omaha has been secured by the Hanscom Park Epworth League for a concert to be given April 4th, at Hanscom Park Church.

Hugh Wallace, director of the Glee Club, expresses himself as wonderfully well pleased with the progress which the fellows have shown from an unpromising beginning. He stated that he is not afraid to put the club on in concert anywhere, and at the end of this week's rehearsal Monday night, was so enthusiastic that he nearly turned handsprings for sheer tumultuous joy.

The regalia to be worn at the concert has not yet been determined, but the choice lies between tuxedos, or dark blue trousers, white shirt, and red sash. A good many of the boys are in favor of the latter costume, as it will be unique, and have the advantage of being cool and at the same time inexpensive.

However, what kind of a costume the club may make official will only add to the general effect, for when the boys get to singing, everything else will be forgotten.

The program will include eight or nine ensemble numbers, an orchestra, a quartet, and several solos. Practically all the club numbers are now memorized—but an extra rehearsal was held last evening at the Y at six-thirty, to work some more on the finishing touches. Several out of town dates are ready for closing.

RUMORED GIRLS' GLEE TO HONOR MALE MEMBERS

Great Ingress of Applicants for Membership Expected in Boy's Organization.

The Girl's Glee Club will hold meetings from now on on Friday afternoons at two o'clock, the change being instituted in order to make a more convenient time for assembling.

A rumor is going the rounds that Girls are planning a big party for the Male Glee club members.

INTER-FRATERNITY BALL DATE ESTABLISHED

To Be Staged by the Five Frats of School—Burgess Nash Tea Room the Place.

The first annual Inter-Fraternity Ball of the University of Omaha will be held on March 28 at the Burgess Nash Tea Room. The three fraternities of the College of Arts and Sciences, Alpha Sigma Lambda, Phi Sigma Phi and Theta Phi Delta, and the two Law fraternities, Lambda Phi, and Tau Delta Epsilon, will be the hosts. The fraternities and sororities both active and alumni members are all invited to attend.

Harry Petrie, Gerald Hogan, and Albert Bell have been the chief luminaries in arranging the details of the dance. Mr. Petrie states that it is the intention to make this affair an annual event. He declares it will be a fine way of showing the right inter-Greek spirit.

"WEDDING BELLS" NOW RAPIDLY TAKING SHAPE

Three Rehearsals a Week Taking Off Rough Spots—Miss Newcomb New Stage Coach.

The play "Wedding Bells," to be presented the 11th and 12th of April by the players club of the University of Omaha, promises to be the best that has been put on by the amateur actors in the history of the school.

The leads will be played by Kenneth Baker, James Doty, Ruth Frazer, and Marie Pellegrin. The new coach, Miss Newcomb, a graduate of the Northwestern Dramatic school, and now principal of Field school, is directing the rehearsals, due to the fact that Dean James is unable to coach the players, who practice in the evening.

Three practices a week are being held.

REJUVENATED HASH HOUSE HOLDS MANY MORE EATERS

Enlarged Eat House Presents Metropolitan Appearance—Mac Roberts to be Congratulated.

The University Lunch, more commonly known as the Hash House, has undergone a complete rejuvenation, which makes a different looking place of it.

The steam table has been moved back about ten feet, the partition having been removed, and an extension being built on the back for the kitchen. The enlargement was necessary to accommodate the large crowd at the rush period, and as a result, the eat house seats a full score more people.

Mr. and Mrs. MacRoberts, proprietors of the popular lunch room, are to be congratulated in providing a more adequate place for the University students.

LA CAUSERIE ORGANIZES

The French club, after lying dormant for a considerable period of time, will resume its activity with its first meeting of the year Tuesday evening.

The year's program will follow in general that of last year, with French games, refreshments, and French songs.

GATEWAY MAKES POETRY CONTEST ANNOUNCEMENT

To Sponsor Contest Among Poetic Talent on the Campus

All budding young poets will have a chance to blossom out in the poetry contest to be staged by the Gateway to encourage talent in the University of Omaha from March 25 to April 15.

The contest will be open to every one who wishes to enter, and who is a bona fide member of the University of Omaha. No restrictions are made except that poetry must be typewritten on one side of the paper only. Any kind of poetry will be accepted from sonnets to nursery rhymes. All the poems will be carefully considered on the basis of pure merit by competent judges, to be announced in the next issue of the Gateway, which will also announce the prize to be given for first place.

Every time you hear that little ditty about "Spring is here", don't you just long to dip your fingers into poet's ink and improve on it? Don't you love to release all those pent-up feelings in verse? Free verse, heroic couplets, or just anything that seems to be the best vehicle of expression. Perhaps that verse is really worth-while, and you may be a genius without knowing it.

At any rate, choose whatever subject, style, or form that strikes your fancy and let the result filter into the big poetry contest of the Gateway. Watch the next issue for further information, but get busy now! Competition promises to be keen!

OMAHA U GIRLS DEFEAT BAPTIST BASKETBALLERS

Hand Church Team First Defeat of the Season—Return Game Next Week.

The girl's basketball team of the University of Omaha demonstrated its right to a place in the spotlight, when it handled the hitherto undefeated Immanuel Baptist girl's team a beating to the tune of 5-3 Tuesday night at the church gym.

The Baptists are eager for a return game which will, in all probability, be given them next week, and will be played in the school gym.

Other games will possibly be scheduled, Bellevue having asked for a game.

FRESHMAN PARTY.

The belated St. Patrick's party of the freshman class has been postponed until March 29th, when it will assume the aspects of an April Fool's party. Everyone will come in costume prizes being awarded for the best. The affair will be held at the Hanscom park pavilion, according to present plans, and will consist of games and dancing.

Clara Pease (outlining Shakespeare class for an absent member): Why, the dean lectured to us for half an hour, and then we discussed his sanity.—I mean Hamlet's.

THE BEAM AND THE MOTE.

Several people outside of the university have suddenly become enormously alarmed for our moral safety. Their solicitude followed the published announcement in city papers of a new school club with a startling name.

Yet those who read farther than the title of the article in any of the papers really should not have been particularly shocked. Nor should they have felt that students who had the club idea were endangering their ethical salvation. To consider the club a "reflection on the university" is stretching the point of the matter to its nth degree, "n" being anything larger than infinity.

A spirit of fun does not make nearly so formidable a mote as is the beam of narrowmindedness.

AIN'T WE GOT FUN?

It has recently been somewhat forcibly brought to our attention—not altogether unwillingly, of course, but nevertheless quite forcefully—that spring is in the air; spring with its slush (we mean on the pavements, of course, not in vehicles parked outside of school), its rare birds, and other wild creatures. Among the immigration of these creatures this year, a few seem stricken with a not uncommon disease—though it usually attacks minors with greatest virulence—known as "ostentatious sentimentality." The disease is usually not serious in its results, but it often spreads very rapidly during March and April, extending even into all months of the year. Since the university is scarcely to be compared to a dimly illuminated parlor retreat, it is to be hoped that the Board of Health (otherwise known as the Student Council) of the university take steps to prevent an epidemic of this disease of "ostentatious sentimentality."

APRIL SHOWERS.

The students of the University of Omaha are bookworms! They study and study and dig into their books as if every moment were more precious than gold.

Even during assembly hour, if one would open the library room door an inch or two, a glance would show the room half full of diligent students, busy as bees, eagerly reading, or writing, or cramming.

Other covert squintings through class room doors would reveal groups of students, who, anxious lest they be late to the next class, have entered to spend the half hour in dutiful expectancy and mayhap in just a few glances through a text book, or just a few finishing touches on a problem or theme.

Assembly at the University of Omaha is a voluntary thing; no one has to go. But, not taking up the unselfish viewpoint, that of loyalty to one of the school activities, and looking at assembly from a purely self-centered attitude, most normal persons will agree that it is a far more essential part of the school day than the few minutes to be gained from last minute preparation, the value of which is doubtful at best.

A period of relaxation, of singing, and of fellowship feeling is a requisite of a well balanced day. Assembly, or chapel, is such a time, and is being taken advantage of as such by the thinking percentage of the school.

THETA NOTES.

The meeting this week was held at the home of Gerald Hogan, and proved to be one of the most important of the year. Lively discussion was in order upon the Gala Day act, and Brother Burt Thompson submitted ideas to the fraternity, which met with general approval.

Brother Dave Robel has been, for the last week, billed at the Orpheum in the capacity of pianist for the Keno quartet, and the consensus of opinion of the theatre going public is that Dave did himself proud as is his wont.

Brother Howard Anderson is starting training for the middle distances, although the snow is not yet off the ground. He expects to make a strong bid in this department of the coming track season. Pledge Atkinson is another who is impatiently waiting for the white blanket to be take itself hence, and allow him to don the spikes.

PI OMEGA PI.

A regular business meeting was held at the home of Cleo-Bess Thornton, Thursday evening, March 7th. Gene Swanson, who, because of illness, was unable to be initiated with the September pledges, was formally initiated.

The Pi O's attended the Cat. and Canary at the Brandies theatre in a body. It is said that Clara-Mae Morgan still jumps at every hand extended, that Fernie Thomsen has scarcely recovered her normal voice yet, and that Edith Engelke didn't cease trembling for two days.

Alice Ruff, who was ill with tonsillitis, has returned to school again.

Clara-Mae Margan spent the last week end at home in Plattsmouth. The previous week end was also a busy one for her, as a certain young man from Cornell spent it in Omaha.

SIG CHI NOTES.

The active members entertained the pledges at a studio party on March 8th. The Bohemian idea was carried out in decorations, food and programs.

Ruth Wallace will spend her spring vacation in Omaha. Several informal parties have been planned for her.

Sigma Chi Omicron entertained at a dutch treat party at the Brandies tea room Saturday afternoon.

The misses Ann and Jane McConnell entertained at a birthday bridge party Thursday evening in honor of Helen Ritley.

Mr. Charles Hallkat, fiance of Margaret McMillan, will be in Omaha the first week of April.

PHI SIGMA PHI.

The Phi Sigma meeting Monday nite was a strictly business meeting. After the instructions to the pledges and etcetera, the plans for the first annual Inter-Fraternity dance were approved and accepted and the act for Gala day was decided.

One of our pledges, George Wright, is contemplating writing a lengthy book entitled 'Lost in the wilds of Omaha,' or 'How to miss pledge meeting.' He will ask the assistance of Jack Bolzendahl and Walter Edmiston.

Walter Munson is developing very taking ways, as he can extract shokels from most anyone now, even the most hard-hearted members. Ask Jerry Kutak or Ken Baker.

Miss Everson states that she lost a very valuable note Tuesday.

KAPPA NOTES.

Carman Longman entertained the Kappas at a St. Patricks bridge party at her home Friday evening. The decorations and refreshments were all carried out in accordance with the customs of the day.

Plans are being made for a spring dance.

On account of the death of her mother, Mary Davis has left for her home in Indiana.

ALPHA SIGMA LAMBDA NOTES.

The regular meeting was held last Tuesday evening at the home of Brother Stewart Powers. The only thing that was lacking was Stew, who is now wandering up and down the Pacific coast.

FIRST VIOLIN NEEDED FOR U. OF O. ORCHESTRA

Time of Practice Moved Away from Lunch Hour.

University orchestrians, unable to get up in time for practice, scheduled for Tuesday noon, have shoved it up to four o'clock in the afternoon, hoping that with the aid of the family alarm clocks and healthy consciences, they can make it.

Director Borcharding states that he feels confident that his prodigies will shortly be ready to astonish the world—in fact, as soon as they get a few more first violinists. Perry suggests that anyone who wishes to be in on the world conquest tote his (her, its) little violin to next practice.

There was only one man in the tent when the sideshow opened, but the lady performed as earnestly as if she had been appearing before the assembled crowned heads of Europe. She wound a torpid boa constrictor around her shapely waist, draped it over her snowy shoulders, and bestowed a shy little smile upon the lone spectator. "The snake," she explained, "is charmed." "I would be myself," said the gentleman, politely.

SOCIOLOGY SOCIETY MEETS WITH KEN BAKER

Lively Discussion in Order—Miss Johnson to Speak at Chapel.

Last Friday evening the sociological club met with Kenneth Baker, and had a lively discussion whether to have speakers come to the University under the auspices of the club.

The next speaker will be Miss Johnson, a juvenile authority of the city, who will speak on juvenile conditions, and upon the need for an awakening of the social conscience.

The extent of the need for the study of sociology in the schools was also discussed at some length.

Ice cream and cake was had, with Jack Bolzendahl playing a major part. He refused to yodel and the crowd went home.

GALA DAY PREPARATION IS MARCHING FORWARD

Day's Program Mapped Out—Queen Be Chosen Middle of April.

Gala Day this year will be held on the 23rd of May. During the morning there will be a baseball game, inter-class track meet, and other contests between the classes, including a tug-of-war. Both Joslyn and Jacobs Hall will be properly bedecked for the occasion. At noon a light lunch will be served to all the students at less than cost and the afternoon will be taken up with other contests and entertainment until two o'clock when an intermission will be declared until the coronation ceremonies at Kountze Park at 6:30.

Joslyn Hall will be open from 7:30 until 8:30 for the inspection of visitors. At 8:30 the Gala Day entertainment, consisting of nine acts, will commence. Tickets for the entertainment will be put on sale May first.

Preliminary outlines of all acts are to be submitted this week. The final tryouts will be about the middle of April so as to give the acts a full month to rehearse. The committee is reserving the right to reject any of the acts submitted. All that is required this week is the information that an act is being worked on and its nature.

Her Majesty, The Queen, will be elected about the middle of April, at which time the election for the maids of honor will also be held. The senior girl receiving the highest number of votes will be queen, and the senior girl receiving the next highest number of votes the herald. The girl in each class receiving the highest number of votes will be maid of honor for that class. All students and faculty are eligible to vote for one girl from each class.

The Central Committee in charge of Gala Day, consisting of Herbert Fischer, Chairman, Helen Neff, Senior representative, Benjamin Meade, Junior representative, Alice Ruf sophomore representative, and Thelma Marks, Freshman representative meets every Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. The committee says it is glad to receive any suggestions for bettering the Gala Day program.

No Need of It.

"Say, stranger," said a man traveling in Kansas, "why don't they put up a sign, 'Dangerous' down here at this ford? I drove through there just now and came near getting drowned."

GIRL'S BASKETBALL TEAM OUT FOR GAMES

Girls with Fast Team are Looking for Games—Failed to Enter
A. A. U. Tournament.

The girls are trying to schedule some basketball games with outside teams during the next two weeks. The team is progressing nicely under the direction of Mrs. Ring and is getting into shape to hand out a few defeats to other sextets of the city. Among most promising girls are Betty Pressly and Beatrice Milnamow at forwards, Laura Redgwick and Winifred Dempsey at centers, and Mary Tyson and Hilma Peterson at guards. The subs in all probability will be Virginia Duffield and Florence Jensen.

Betty and Bee are dead shots at the hoop and rarely miss a chance, and right now are one of the best pair of forwards in the city. Laura has the range and ability to make a fine jumping center, while "Jack's" pep and scrap make a fine combination for a running pivot mate. Mary's boyish style makes her a great asset to the team and her guarding ability is most annoying to the opponents. Hilma has the stamina and spirit which make her one of the best guards of the school. Flo is a good center and can fill in at guard if it is necessary with great success. Virginia Duffield is the girl who can play any position equally as well. She is a good forward, and can jump center or guard in great style.

The girls did not enter in the city tourney because of lack of sanction from the athletic committee but they will be worthy of the school's support in the games that they will play.

NEW HOME EC CLUB HAS DELICIOUS MEETING

Charter members of the new Home Ec club met Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Ruth Smith.

The intensive seriousness was rudely interrupted by amusing situations which characterized the whole program.

Lenta's contagious conduct, conducive to catching caterpillars, colored the carnival.

Between stringy, slippery substances which substituted such substantial slides, and sorely severed sandwiches, the sum total spelled spaghetti. Some subsisted on songs as salad, but as a whole the meeting was pronounced an unmitigated success by the home ecers.

LOS SABIOS ENTERTAINED ROYALLY AT MEETING

Large Turn Out on Hand—Herb
Fischer Pulls Magic—Two Fast
Games Played.

About 25 members of Los Sabios were entertained Friday evening at the home of Ruth Arlander.

The business session opened shortly after nine o'clock. Then Senor Fischer was introduced, after which he made a lengthy speech in Espanol concerning Prestidigitation, his chosen avocation. His speech was illustrated by a number of mystical and clever tricks, which puzzled everyone and met with hearty approval.

Two games were played, the first being called baseball and requiring considerable knowledge of the Spanish language. (Captain Howard Anderson's side made the most runs. The other game also employed the Spanish language. Those who proved themselves not quick nor adept enough at it, were kept busy hopping from chair to chair. Even Miss Zozaya was obliged to change her seat.

The entertainment for the rest of the evening was furnished by Mrs. Collins.

The grande finale consisted of sandwiches, cookies, coffee, and cake with whipped cream.

Charles Cargmile, one of last year's notable members, was present, but probably sick, as he was inconspicuous.

Curbing Their Eloquence.

First Attorney—Your honor, unfortunately, I am opposed by an unmitigated scoundrel.

Second Attorney—My learned friend is such a notorious liar—

"Not if you are planning to pay the bill."

Playing the Races.

"I suppose I was foolish to take a tip from a bootblack, but I thought one tip was as good as another."

"So it is. Just about."

A Big One.

Optimus—Have you heard the latest Ford joke?

Cynicus—Yes; he wants to be president.

Yes, it even includes letter forms for putting off the grocer and butcher.

"That so?"

"Yes. She still insists on giving cod liver oil for a cold."

PETE SAYS—

I want to tell all you folks another little story about some of the things that nobody not even myself talks about. Or if we does talk about it we don't know what we are talking about. School spirits is its name and if we all are full of it, we get a kick out of the school and if we ain't got it the school's a dead place alright. Well it goes like this; If you're very quiet when we've turned the lights down low, I will tell you all a story that I'm sure you'd like to know. Of a certain little College which was very very small, but a college that had spirit, that's what counts after all. They didn't have a football team, were very sad about it, but the College cheer was loud and clear whenever they did shout it. The other teams were not so good, but the college didn't care. They cheered the same triumphant cry, they were out to do and dare. That college will arrive some day, and the whole wide world will cheer it. The reason why, none can deny, they surely had the spirit.

So listen here dear U. of O. and the students that compose you, when you meet a friend or a business man or anyone who knows you. Though the team has lost the night before and the whole wide world looks blue. Just smile at him though your heart is sad and sheer for Omaha U. "You can't keep a good man down" they say in this workaday world of prose "Nor a good University either" says Pete and Peter says he knows. Success never comes to those who grouch but she likes those who smile and the U. of O. will be on the map, but we've got to wait a while.—Original with Pete—

The track squad will jump into the grind about the first of April and will focus activities for the state meet. Outdoor practices will be held on the school campus in Miller Park, and on the vacant blocks beyond Ames and twenty-fourth. There is not much dope yet on the prospects, but a strong squad is sure to be out and a number of promising men are asking to get into spikes again. Practically every boy in school will report and coach Adams expects something from such a squad.

He is trying to get a dual meet with Tarkio, to be held there, before the state meet comes off May 10.
